The Toronto-Dominion Bank opened its new branch in the McLeod Village Shopping Centre last week. Among the participants at the official ribbon cutting ceremony were Jack Hwyes, manager — sales personal banking department; Mayor Bill Norrie and Janette M. Georgeson, branch manager. "We want to be part of the community," stressed Georgeson. For instance, in addition to featuring a Green Machine, the branch is committed to a 24 hour tour around approval of mortgages subject to bank or CMHC appraisal.
