

19TH COMPANY

GUIDES REPORT

HAPPY OUTING

---

East Kildonan is Hunting Ground for Naturalists and Lovers of Outdoors

---

The 19th company of Guides spent a most enjoyable week-end in camp in East Kildonan. This time they were favored by excellent weather, and were able to enjoy every minute of the time. The girls are becoming experienced campers by this time, pitching and striking tents, and also capable cooks. Many new specimens of wild flowers were gathered for nature study and some time spent each day doing some Guide work, signalling, drill and first class work. The provincial camp adviser, Miss E. Cox, visited the camp Saturday and inspected tents and camp kitchen.

Sunday several Guides spent a day at camp. With sighs of regret the tents were taken down, and the campers made their way home in the cool of the evening, but are looking forward to the next camp, to be held in two weeks; the campers were: Rangers V. Morris, D. Piper, W. Smith, H. Watt, Guides A. Kirkby, M. Wright, A. Watt, B. Smith, L. Smith, N. Smith. Alice Kirkby, (captain.)
