

Centennial Ball At Marlborough

Louis Riel, Miles Macdonell, John West and Lord Selkirk, all familiar names, will relive the past again at the East Kildonan Centennial Committee Citizens Ball on Friday, Feb. 24, at the Marlborough Hotel.

Two ballrooms have been engaged for two separate parties.

The adults will occupy the Sky-view Ballroom, and young adults will sway in the Mezzanine Lounge.

Jim Christie will be the MC for the young adults.

Prizes will be awarded for costumes, and the period selected is from 1867 to 1925.

Committee chairman Jacques Fraser says that this does not preclude wearing more recent costumes. The idea being that everyone should have the opportunity of portraying a part of our historic past.

Tickets are $5.00 a couple for adults and $2.00 each for the young adults. These are available from most organizations in East Kildonan as well as the Kiwanis and Lions clubs and at the City Hall.

"It is hoped all citizens will take the opportunity to come together on this our first major Centennial project," Mrs. Fraser said.
